REVIEWS OF LOST ALMA'S "YOU CAN'T STOP THE SILENCE" CD (from DK media)

"Album of the week" in various danish local radio stations.

Gaffa.dk: "Solid & beautiful release from new danish singer-songwriter Lost Alma... There's something authentic and real about the 11 handplayed songs... The musical inspiration from Neil Young & Nick Cave are reminiscent, but the balance between inspiration and independence are well kept. Lost Alma sounds like Lost Alma. Just beautiful".

Sirene: "If you're into soulful & melancholic singer-songwriting, then "You Can't Stop the Silence" is the next CD you should buy".

Undertoner: "Suddenly you find yourself humming along to the tunes 'coz the chorus' sticks to your ear like glue... The 11 songs are really well arranged and the use of cello, piano and glockenspiel works tremendously well and strongly emphasize the intimate and melancholic moods... Henrik Stahlhuts vocal are far from anonymous and Lost Alma has lots of potential to work with on future releases".

Geiger: "There is something at stake here... "You Can't Stop the Silence" is a very personal CD coming straight from the heart... The songs are catchy and the arrangements interesting, with the use of slide-guitar, cello, piano and female backing vocals... The package is fine in both material and production".

Diskant.dk: "A lot of fine details reveal that the 11 songs have been nursed in the studio and the lyrics are very personal and relevant, and are clearly build on own experiences... You sense an authenticity and passion behind the music that make me feel both safe and excited about Lost Almas next release... The CD is all in all a very positive acquaintance".
